

Carol Ansley is the Principal at Ansley IP Law, LLC and a registered patent attorney. She holds BEE and MEE degrees from the Georgia Institute of Technology as well as a JD from Georgia State university. She is an inventor over 30 patents in various areas of telecommunications and CATV-related technology. Carol has extensive engineering and management background coming from over 25 years in the telecommunications industry. Her current legal practice covers all aspects of intellectual property and patents. She is also active in the IEEE Standards Association with WG802.11.